

Client: OHSU
Location: Portland OR
Architect: PKA Architects
Project size: 11,000 SF

Emergency Department Finishes - 1

This first phase of renovations included four primary trauma rooms and ten acute exam rooms which required keeping the Emergency Department fully functional and operating during construction. A compacted work schedule allowed for no more than one trauma room to be effected at a time, other precautions were also taken to minimize our impact to their operations.

